Selected terms

Clause	Executed provision (extract)
5.4 Data provision	Seller shall provide to Buyer, for each production installation and reporting year, the product, precursor and verifier information ordinarily required to prepare CBAM declarations using data furnished by the relevant operator. Supplier files may be distributed through the Anatolia customer exchange portal.
5.6 Correction notices	Seller shall transmit material amendments to emissions datasets notified by operators without undue delay. Buyer shall maintain its own transaction and import records and is responsible for the uploading and surrender acts made in its CBAM account.
11.2 Warranty	Seller warrants that information it directly represents as final and verified has been supplied to it by the relevant operator or verifier and that it has not knowingly changed the data, subject to disclosed transformations.
11.4 Loss allocation	Subject to Clause 11.6, Seller shall indemnify Buyer for directly evidenced incremental CBAM certificate expenditure that is caused by materially inaccurate emissions information passed on by Seller, excluding amounts independently caused by Buyer's own processing or customs reporting errors.
11.6 Disputed claims	Claims are notified in writing within 30 days after Buyer has reasonable documentary grounds to assert a loss, with supporting evidence. No agreed indemnity amount is due merely because a regulatory enquiry has begun; the parties shall first attempt reconciliation.
17 Governing law	Contractual disputes between Buyer and Seller are governed by Dutch law, with arbitration seated in Amsterdam. This clause addresses the private supply relationship.

Technical appendix — supplier exchange

Commercial identifiers start with NSM-H for uncoated coil and NSM-Z for coated coil. An operator-supplied column called Production cell may identify a line, process grouping or commercial programme. The meaning of that field is fixed by the applicable operator-origin record, not by the item code. Seller has no direct control of the importer's mapping of commercial item references to regulatory groupings.

Buyer will normally receive a CSV extract, an operator report and any accompanying verification materials. There is no clause making a third-country verifier the EU declarant or requiring a public authority to accept a private allocation of regulatory duties.
