Broker file and customs communications

Client-specific extracts | Mariner Entry Services LLC | prepared 6 November 2026

CLIENT	Asterion Motion Systems Inc. / importer of record
BROKER CONTACT	A. Reed, Licensed Customs Broker
COVERAGE	2025 merchandise entered under importer account 617; electronic filing extract dated 6 Nov 2026

Client service note | 9 October 2026

The manufacturer confirmed that all items coded AX14, CN08 and OP03 in this portfolio are complete fixed-ratio industrial gear/speed-changing assemblies. Product classification on the listed entry summaries is 8483.40.50, with a 2.5 per cent ordinary ad valorem rate. Certain 2025 entries also carried Chapter 99 additional duties under IEEPA. All duty amounts in the ACE extract are amounts originally paid or recorded, not a legal determination of their ultimate refundability.

No US preference, temporary importation, drawback, antidumping or countervailing duty was claimed for the included merchandise. Values were reported at the invoiced amounts plus a provisional buyer-owned tool allocation on AX14 entries. No separate OP03 engineering or IP amount was coded in the original entry lines. We have not yet filed any revised OP03 methodology other than the one reconciliation record reflected in ACE.

CBP request for information | received 22 October 2026

CBP REFERENCE	RFI-2026-73 / Entry Review, Port of New York-Newark
DATE OF LETTER	20 October 2026
RESPOND BY	20 November 2026
ADDRESSED TO	Importer of record, copied to Mariner Entry Services

Please provide manufacturing/purchasing agreements and transfer-pricing workpapers relevant to the customs values declared for AX14, CN08 and OP03 entries during 2025. Include support for amounts later netted through intercompany credit and debit notes, any tooling or design items furnished to related manufacturers and payments for use of programme technology. Provide an explanation of the importer's valuation method by product and the documentation supporting it.

The Entry Review team requests a complete response with the original source records and a description of any differences detected during the importer's own review.

Broker observations | 3 November 2026

We have one value-flagged February group with initial entry-summary dates in the 10-25 February 2025 period. We also have flagged later-2025 entries, some with CAPE declarations already accepted, one with a Reconciliation type 09 on file, and at least one separate open protest. A calendar based only on original invoice dates or only on the single Treasury netting date will not reflect the filing statuses accurately.

For the IEEPA question, we have consulted CBP Cargo Systems Messages 68340863, 69035485 and 69066837, and subsequent publicly available updates should be checked as of the date of counsel's advice. The CAPE portal has treated original entry statuses differently depending on liquidation, protest, reconciliation flags and whether a type 09 has already been submitted. Banking and Treasury confirmation, if issued, will appear in a subsequent payment advice.