File custody and entity index

Corporate metadata for the record set; this is a file index rather than a legal assessment or a statement of agreed facts.

Company filing index

Prepared by: MIC legal operations | Last updated 3 November 2026

Meridian Industrial Controls Inc. (MIC): Delaware corporation, principal business in Ohio. Importer account code MIC. Meridian Sourcing Services LLC (MSS): separate Delaware LLC, purchasing and manufacturing-programme administration. Orchard Entry Services LLC (OES): licensed U.S. customs broker at Laredo and El Paso. RelayForge Industrial S.A. de C.V.: unrelated producer in Nuevo Leon, Mexico.

The group legal department controls the record exports. The entry-summary files originate from the MIC/OES customs data interface; manufacturing run and components files originate from the Mexican producer; the AP export contains MIC and MSS programmes; the audit workpapers contain CBP estimates and company responses. These exports preserve their original native system fields and may require reconciliation.

Document custody notes

Prepared by: MIC legal operations | Last updated 3 November 2026

The main record set includes transaction data, producer accounting, quality notes, procurement payments, supplier communications, broker correspondence, agency correspondence and administrative notices. The source systems use different clocks: entry dates are local port dates; internal mail timestamps follow sender mailbox configuration; CBP filing acknowledgments use Central Time as displayed.

The supplier's blanket certificate covers commercial products, while production and account records maintain release and company identifiers at different levels. Where a source is a later summary of earlier events, the contemporaneous records it cites remain in the export.

Case record status

Prepared by: MIC general counsel | 3 November 2026

The client has not instructed counsel to concede the tentative culpability classification or to waive any currently available position. The company has supplied all identified transaction systems and its substantive correspondence, while CBP has supplied the identified investigative extracts. Corporate personnel remain available for clarification, although counsel is expected to state what can already be supported on the provided record and what remains genuinely unresolved.